Q1. What was your stance in the committee?

Lavanya : The Republic of India has always advocated a neutral stand on the Israeli Palestinian conflict. We have proposed solutions that are acceptable to both countries. India has great relations with Israel and we have always supported the Palestinian cause. We have proposed a two state solution based on the 1967 map, although with some changes.

Jai : I was standing with the bills. I believe that the bills sounded good on paper and were a gamble.

Hriday : India wants peace at any cost and would like to negotiate with other countries for it.

Q2. What is your message to the other delegates?

Jai : Each delegate was very knowledgeable and well versed. I had a great time with them and hope to stay in touch with them.

Hriday : India would like to tell everybody that they want to be on good terms with others.

Lavanya : India has always believed in VASUDAIVA KUTUMBAKAM that is the world is one family. We strongly believe that peace can only be brought with collective effort and unity. Until the world becomes one, there can be no peace. Peace comes to all or it comes to none. India also urges that the rising human rights violations must be put to an immediate end and people should not be forced to face the consequences of wars.

Q3. How did you enjoy the committee?

Jai : It was great. The EB was nice and the procedures and rules were explained in an organized and good manner.

Hriday : I am enjoying the committee a lot. This is one of the best committees I have ever attended. The toughest too.

Lavanya : The delegate thoroughly enjoyed the committee. It was indeed a pleasure as we discussed one of the largest humanitarian conflicts in the world. The EB was very considerate and informed, it carried all the proceedings very well and the EB and other delegates made the committee very interesting. The solutions proposed were very practical, good and implementable.

Q4. How was your learning experience?

Jai : Considering this was my first MUN, I had a lot to learn. I learnt researching skills, diplomacy, and how to put my points across in an organized manner.

Hriday : Never underestimate your opponent and fight till the end.

Lavanya : My biggest learning was diplomacy in world affairs. The knowledge on international conflicts made me think like a global citizen. In the end, I would thank my parents, teachers and Daly College for a wonderful MUN.

FEEDBACK

Good afternoon, this is Manveer Pratap Rathore from The Emerald Heights International School. My portfolio is Democratic People's Republic of Korea in DISEC, my country's stance on the agenda is that we are against bio-terrorism, no matter what, unless other countries pose threat to our sovereignty and our citizens. I enjoyed the committee a LOT, as I am very passionate about debating. I loved the enthusiasm of my fellow delegates and how we unanimously found a solution to the agenda. I specifically loved the motion of entertainment at the end of the committee and the amazing and eventful crisis given by the EB. My biggest learning in the committee was learning about MUNs and knowing a lot more about bio-terrorism and about North Korea in the session's proceedings. To sum it up, this was my favourite co-curricular event I have ever attended in my life. I am fortunate for this amazing opportunity and look forward to attending more conferences.

THE CLOSING CEREMONY

The closing ceremony of the MUN proved to be almost as much of an experience as the last three days were, displaying our appreciation for its occurrence evidently through speeches and presentations. Starting with an introductory video exhibiting the picturesque campus and a welcome speech following an introduction to the Chief Guest, Darsheel Safary, and Guest of Honour, Naman Jain, the beginning of the event proved to be a real eye-grabber.

Next came a vocal performance put on by the some of the most musically gifted students of the Daly College before each executive board announced the well-awaited for results including verbal mentions, high commendations and the best delegate for each committee. The participation of each student was celebrated using a comedic video that included uproarious screenshots, videos and memes of each committee.

Speeches made by the chief guest and guest of honour added to the ceremony, giving us an intriguing insight about their childhood in the spotlight along with the principal's heartfelt address about the current local COVID-19 crisis and the school's regard for the applaudable participation from each school.

The ceremony ended with a bang as a dance performance by the students of the school, despite displayed on screen, was nonetheless as exciting as it would have been in person and a vote of thanks.
